

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JULY 21, 1894.

See To-Morrow's

SUNDAY WORLD.

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION.

TO PLAY WAR AT SEA.

Edison Outdone!

An Almost Unknown New Yorker's Discoveries Will Revolutionize the Electrical World.

OUR SENATOR ON THE SITUATION.

LAST EDITION.

VIGILANT

THE VICTOR.

Naval Reserves Ship on the Cruiser New York.

Regular Marines Ousted to Make Room for Them.

One of the New York's Crew Reported as Deserting.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appearance, nor was there any word from the Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of 42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

LAST EDITION.

TO PLAY WAR AT SEA.

Naval Reserves Ship on the Cruiser New York.

Regular Marines Ousted to Make Room for Them.

One of the New York's Crew Reported as Deserting.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

At 3.30 o'clock, however, not a single
one of the reserves had put in an appear-
ance, nor was there any word from the
Admiral. There is so much room in the
New York that it was not considered
necessary to release any of the crew of
42 men who usually carried on board.

COURT-HOUSE SHAKEN

LADY KILLER FOILED.

Terrific Explosion in the Kings County Building.

Reporter Lifted Off His Feet and Quite Badly Hurt.

Was There a Plot on Foot to Destroy the Structure?

A terrific explosion started every one in the Kings County Court-House, Brooklyn, about noon to-day.

Court officials and lawyers ran from all parts of the building to see what was up.
The walls shook and frightened several women who screamed and rushed for the stairs.

Investigation showed a very peculiar state of affairs.

Clifford A. Smith, a newspaper reporter, was found standing near one of the doors leading from the second floor to the front balcony.

His face was covered with dust, his eyes were bleeding and he was in great pain.

Nothing about the building revealed the cause of the trouble. Smith was too badly injured to talk.

He was removed quickly to the Eye and Ear Hospital on Livingston street, directly in the rear of the Court-House, where he was attended by Dr. Blake.

The doctor took some pieces of tiling
and dust from the injured man's eyes.
The flesh surrounding the eyes was badly burned.

Smith was able to take a car home.
The court officials are at a loss to determine the cause of the explosion. The fumes of powder were very noticeable.
It is thought by many that small boys had poured powder into the hole, others intimate that it was the work of persons intending to blow up the Court-House.

An investigation will be made.

MULVANEY AND THE SHARK.

It Interrupted His Breakfast, and He Harpooned It.

Phillip Mulvaney, a laborer, of 27
Adams street, Hoboken, had an experience which he is now relating to his family in the North River, opposite South street, Hoboken, early this morning.

Mulvaney had been fishing from an early hour last evening, and was pulling up his line, when he noticed a shark about 4 o'clock, when a friend was then assisting him.

The four guns which had been introduced for their benefit were given over to their charges. The shark began to swim toward him, and in a few seconds, as it were, the reserves were all in the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

The old salt watched the reserves
urgently, yet with a patronizing air,
and when the shark's head was
seen, when some of the "dirt sailors"
exhibited full dress suits, before the
reserves could get into the water.

LADY KILLER FOILED.

BATTLE WITH A DOG.

Mrs. Perkins Would Not Smile
Upon Young Harmyer.

He Is Charged with a Plot to Abduct
Her Child.

Mrs. Edwards Beat Him with a Poker, and He's in Jail.

For God's sake don't kill me," cried Harry W. Harmyer, twenty-five years old, of 281 Eighth avenue, to Mrs. Lizzie Edwards, of 281 Broadway, who surprised him by pulling a poker from under her apron and striking him with it.

"I'll teach you, you torment, to annoy decent people," cried Mrs. Edwards, who was highly indignant at Harmyer for the part he wanted her to take to get revenge on another woman.

It was lucky for Harmyer that Policeman Henry Cohen, of the Fifth street station, was near at hand and took him in charge.

Harmyer is a well-dressed young man who says that he is in the employ of Snow, Church & Co., collectors, doing business on Broadway, near Chambers street.

Two months ago Harmyer engaged board at 141 East Twelfth street. He fell desperately in love with Mrs. Mattie Dixon Perkins, a married woman, who was also boarding in the house, and who she thought him to be a good man.

"Madam," he said, "you have wounded my heart. I will make you regret it." He became so annoying that Mr. Henderson, the proprietor of the boarding-house, compelled him to look for other quarters.

He discovered that Mrs. Perkins was not living with her husband, and that her sixteen-month-old girl was boarding with Mrs. Edwards.

Harmyer went to Mrs. Edwards and told her that he would give her $25 if she would help him to get revenge on Mrs. Perkins. She unfolded a plot to kill Mrs. Perkins, which made the latter so indignant that she chased him out of the house with a broom.

The next day Harmyer called again and begged Mrs. Edwards's pardon. He said that he was ashamed of himself for having induced her to do what he knew was wrong.

"You know, don't you," he said, "that I know him in Pittsburgh, where he is a well-known man."

He then informed Mrs. Edwards that Mrs. Perkins was an unfit woman to have a child. "She is unfit to take care of it," he said, "and I want to help her to take it out of her hands."

Harmyer exhibited an anonymous letter, which he said was from Mrs. Perkins, in which she said that she would leave the child to him.

Harmyer then told Mrs. Perkins that he would give her $25 if she would
leave the child to him.

Harmyer then told Mrs. Perkins that
he would give her $25 if she would
leave the child to him.

Harmyer then told Mrs. Perkins that
he would give her $25 if she would
leave the child to him.

Harmyer then told Mrs. Perkins that
he would give her $25 if she would
leave the child to him.

OUR SENATOR ON THE SITUATION.

LAST EDITION.

VIGILANT

THE VICTOR.

Got a Wind in the Last Round and Just Ran Away from Britannia.

FLUKY UP TO THAT TIME.

Light Breezes, but Our Boat Nearly Always Ahead of the Englishman.

SURPRISED THE IRISHMEN.

Vigilant's Burst of Speed Made Them Think She Was a Flyer.

Sure Enough.

Vigilant won the race.

(By Associated Press.)

ROYAL ST. GEORGE'S YACHT CLUB, KINGSTOWN, Dublin Bay, July 21.—The American sloop Vigilant and the British cutter Britannia started this morning on their tenth race, with the score standing 8 to 1 in favor of the Prince of Wales's yacht.

The wind was light and the course was the same as yesterday, from the East Pier, here, to and around Rose-bog Buoy, thence out to sea and around the Kish Lightship, from there back towards Hray Head and around the Mullins, and thence back to the pier; three times around the course, completing the total distance of fifty miles.

The prize contested for to-day was $300, given by the Royal St. George's Yacht Club.

It was distinctly Britannia weather; but some blue-looking clouds in the northwest, from which the light airs were coming, raised hopes of better racing weather before the contest was decided.

The starting gun was fired at 10.35
A. M., Greenwich time.

By this time the breeze had hardened somewhat and things looked brighter for Vigilant.

Britannia First Away.

The racers crossed the line as follows:

Britannia..... 10 26 30
Vigilant..... 10 26 30

Vigilant made a strong effort to work up on Britannia's weather beam, whereupon a desperate piece of luffing followed, and was watched with great interest and much excitement ashore.

When they squared away for the run to Rosebog Buoy Britannia was a length ahead of her opponent.

The breeze, by this time, was again light, and when spinnakers were set Vigilant was traveling close on Britan-nia's starboard quarter, looking as if she was coming through Britannia's lee, but a drop in the wind brought them almost to a standstill.

When the yachts' sails began to fill again, they were nearly on the original course, and Vigilant again slowly upon Britannia's weather, and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

Vigilant..... 11 41 31
Britannia..... 11 41 31

Britannia, in a light wind, and
under jib-topsails, was drawing up on Vigilant's weather and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

Vigilant..... 11 41 31
Britannia..... 11 41 31

Britannia, in a light wind, and
under jib-topsails, was drawing up on Vigilant's weather and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

Vigilant..... 11 41 31
Britannia..... 11 41 31

Britannia, in a light wind, and
under jib-topsails, was drawing up on Vigilant's weather and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

Vigilant..... 11 41 31
Britannia..... 11 41 31

Britannia, in a light wind, and
under jib-topsails, was drawing up on Vigilant's weather and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

Vigilant..... 11 41 31
Britannia..... 11 41 31

Britannia, in a light wind, and
under jib-topsails, was drawing up on Vigilant's weather and the American
yacht was obliged to luff in order to try
and prevent her passing. This man-
oeuvre, however, failed, and two miles
from Rosebog Buoy, on the first
round, were:

"If You Had Only Aided My Efforts Earlier."

SQUALLS DUE TO-DAY.

Thunder and Lightning May Usher in a Cool Wave.

According to Weather Forecaster Dunn
there will be severe squalls this evening or to-night, accompanied by thunder and lightning.

Mr. Dunn says outgoing vessels should be careful, as the squalls are likely to be dangerous.

Mr. Dunn, as manager of "Hot Weather in New York," which has been playing a rather long if not popular engagement in this city, has decided upon a change of bill.

Mr. Dunn is always quick to realize what will suit N. Y. Yorkers, and the attraction, "Cooler Weather," which he will put on to-night, he thinks, will prove very popular.

All the arrangements had been completed for the arrival of Mr. Dunn's new attraction this morning, but there was a hitch in connections somewhere in the Northwest, so its appearance at a matinee was delayed, but Mr. Dunn stated positively that it would surely reach here in time for performance tonight, and that there would be no waiting on the part of the audience.

Mr. Dunn's attack, Mr. Dunn's able press agent, has arranged to have the arrival of the new attraction announced by the squalls in question.

After Mr. Dunn had told of the greatness of his coming new attraction, he said:

"That night was the notice of this Summer. At no time during the night did the temperature fall below 72.12 degrees."

"That was registered at 7 o'clock this morning. At 8 o'clock it had risen to 80 degrees, and at 9 o'clock there had been a further rise of two degrees. At 10 o'clock it was 82 degrees."

"We are, however, on the last edge of the hot wave, and the cooler weather will reach us this afternoon somewhere and will be accompanied by thunder showers."

The hottest place in the United States at 8 o'clock to-day was Tampa, Fla., where it was 94, and at Buffalo, N. Y., it was 91, and at Buffalo, N. Y., it was 91.

"There and in Boston the temperature was 84, and in New York it was 84.
The humidity here at 8 o'clock was 74,
but by 10 o'clock had jumped to 72.
We do not know when the cool wave will reach here, but you can depend upon it that it will be here sometime during the night, and I think likely this afternoon."

HEAT VICTIMS IN BROOKLYN.

Three Prostrations and One Death Attributed to the Weather.

Shortly after midnight this morning an unknown woman was overcome by heat stroke while standing on the Roanoke Avenue Railroad. She was found by a passer-by and taken to the Brooklyn Hospital, where she died this morning.

SUE FOR $11,000,000.

Russell Sage and Executors of Gould's Estate Defendants.

The Kansas Pacific Bondholders' Committee, of which Silas P. Dutcher is chairman, has entered suit in the United States Circuit Court for New York in the name of John Quincy Adams against Russell Sage and the estate of Jay Gould to recover $11,000,000, being the proceeds of securities alleged to have been taken from the trust.

Under the deed of trust executed to Sage and Gould about $20,000,000 of the capital stock of the Denver Pacific Railroad Company was deposited with the trustees as collateral security for the payment of the Kansas Pacific Consolidated bonds. These securities have been,
it is charged, taken out of the trust, and the proceeds applied by the trustees to their individual benefit.

The committee claim to have obtained
title to them through a suit which they
instituted in the name of the Kansas Pacific Railway Company (which was controlled by them) against themselves.
All that they alleged in these proceedings, it is contended, was that the Denver Pacific stock was of little value and
that the mortgage company would like to have it.

Upon these allegations, and within a period of seven days, they obtained an order from Judge Donohue, of the New York Supreme Court, to take the trust
stock out of the trust and turn it back to the railroad company. The Company thereupon, it is alleged, handed
the stock or the proceeds thereof over
to Gould and Sage, who, it is alleged,
have retained it for their personal purposes.

The committee claim to have obtained
title to them through a suit which they
instituted in the name of the Kansas
Pacific Railway Company (which was
controlled by them) against themselves.
All that they alleged in these proceedings, it is contended, was that the Denver Pacific stock was of little value and
that the mortgage company would like
to have it.

Upon these allegations, and within a
period of seven days, they obtained an
order from Judge Donohue, of the New York Supreme Court, to take the trust
stock out of the trust and turn it back
to the railroad company. The Company thereupon, it is alleged, handed
the stock or the proceeds thereof over
to Gould and Sage, who, it is alleged,
have retained it for their personal purposes.

The committee claim to have obtained
title